Siggi Supports Entrepreneurs Contest 2019

About the Contest and Abbreviated Rules (Pages 1-2) Official Rules (Pages 3-9)

About the Contest:

siggi's dairy began in 2004 when Siggi Hilmarsson, a native of Iceland, felt homesick for skyr – a thick, creamy, high-protein yogurt that was a staple of his childhood diet. The yogurts he found on shelves in the US were much too sweet and artificial for his liking. His mother sent him a recipe and with that, he began making skyr in his small New York City apartment. Within just a few months, Siggi refined his technique, quit his day job and moved his humble skyr-making operation from his home kitchen to a full-scale dairy plant in Upstate New York. He never planned to become a “yogurt entrepreneur” but was driven by his desire to make yogurt with simple ingredients and not a lot of sugar.

As Siggi began sharing his story with the nutrition community, he realized just how aligned their goals were with his own – to help people choose real foods without a lot of added sugar. He also noted, and was inspired by, the entrepreneurial spirit of many registered dietitians who follow their passion and bring their creative visions to life. He was so inspired that he saw an opportunity to give back, from one entrepreneur to another.

The “Siggi Supports Entrepreneurs” Contest will help harness your entrepreneurial spirit to support and/or improve your community with the opportunity to bring your ideas to life. A panel of judges, including Siggi himself, will choose one winner from all eligible entries based on a specified criteria and fund the development and execution of his/her community nutrition education program idea.
