diabetes-friendly food ideas

Please enjoy some of our favorite diabetes-friendly recipes selected by our registered dietitian. You can also follow these simple tips from the American Diabetes Association® to improve the quality of your diet and help control blood sugar:

Keep track of carbs - A general range to keep within is 45 - 60 grams of total carbohydrates per meal. This may vary, depending on how you manage your diabetes. So be sure to consult with your doctor or dietitian.

Watch your serving size - Always check the serving size on food labels. If the food does not have a label, estimate how many carbohydrates are in it to determine serving size.

Cut the bad fat - Keep intake of saturated and trans fat to a minimum, as the consumption of these may put you at a higher risk of heart disease and stroke.

Monitor sodium - If you have high blood pressure, look for foods with less sodium. Try to keep total sodium intake to less than 1,500 mg per day.

Snack wisely - A general guideline is 15 - 20 grams of carbohydrates per snack. Don't forget to factor in carbohydrates from snacking into your overall meal plan!

Lemon & Kale Hummus

makes 3 cups
serving size: ½ cup
carb grams per serving: 7 grams
diabetic exchange: 1 fat | 0.5 starch

Ingredients

1 cup chickpeas (cooked)
¼ cup siggi's 0% plain skyr
½ cup loosely packed kale leaves, torn into small pieces juice of ½ lemon
1-2 cloves garlic
½ cup extra virgin olive oil
salt & pepper to taste

Preparation

In a food processor or blender, combine the chickpeas, skyr, kale, and garlic.

On low speed, slowly pour in the olive oil about 1 Tbsp at a time, adding more as needed to reach a smooth consistency.

Add the lemon juice, salt, and pepper to taste, giving the hummus a final whirl in the food processor or blender.
